Multiple Agencies Respond to House Fire

Tualatin Valley Fire & Rescue, along with Washington County Fire District 2, Banks Fire Department, Hillsboro Fire and Rescue, and Scappoose Fire District responded to a house fire in the 25000 block of NW Dixie Mountain Road at approximately 3:40 pm today.

Initial calls to 9-1-1 indicated the residence was engulfed in flames. First arriving crews found the structure fully involved. Water Tenders from Washington County Fire District 2, Banks Fire Department, and Scappoose Fire District were utilized to bring water to the scene due to the structure being located in a remote area with no municipal water system (hydrants).

The residents were not home at the time and it was later determined that several dogs perished inside the structure.

The 1800 square foot house is considered a total loss. As soon as the structure is deemed safe to enter, investigators will begin processing the scene for a cause.
